

Long Island Health Collaborative's
Community Health Assessment Survey:

Select Communities Report

Methodology

Surveys were distributed, by hand through paper and electronically through Survey Monkey, to community members on Long Island. The electronic version placed rules on certain questions; for questions 1-5, an individual could select three responses and each question was mandatory. To accommodate inconsistencies made on paper versions, paper surveys were sorted into two categories, “rules” and “no rules.” The “rules” surveys were entered into the public Survey Monkey collector, while the “no rules” surveys were entered into a separate, closed collector, where any number of responses could be selected and others could be skipped.

To address inconsistencies within the paper “no rules” surveys, each answer that included more than three responses went through a weighting system. The weight for each response option was $3/x$, where x is the count of responses. A weight of one was applied to each response when less than three responses were selected, due to the fact that respondents had the option to select more. After this formula was applied to the “no rules” data, the results were added to the “rules” survey results.

This analysis is comprised of every survey collected during 2016. A percentage for each answer choice for questions 1-5 was created to determine which answer choice was the most popular among the survey participants. In this report you will find the top two responses and the percentages associated with them. The answer choice under “1st” is the choice with the highest percentage while the answer choice under “2nd” is the choice with the second highest percentage. This has been done for the county and for the Select Communities that Nassau County Department of Health identified in the most recent Community Health Assessment.
