

Long Island Health Collaborative Attendance & Meeting Summary: February 14, 2018 9:30-11:30am

Member Attendance: See list attached

Welcome & Introductions	Janine Logan, Nassau-Suffolk Hospital Council/Long Island Health Collaborative, welcomes committee members to the November Long Island Health Collaborative Meeting. All members introduce themselves. 52 members are in attendance.
Announcements and Updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduction: Katie Feerick, new Program Manager 	Janine introduces Steering Committee members to PHIP program manager Katie Feerick. Katie comes to us from the Suffolk Care Collaborative where she served as a Clinical Application Specialist and Trainer. In this role, she was out in the field at provider offices working with them and their key staff in engaging them in the Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment Program (DSRIP). In addition, she has extensive customer service experience and a keen understanding of population health principles. In May 2018, she will receive her MBA in Healthcare Administration from St. Joseph's College with a concentration in Health Information Systems. She began her tenure with LIHC on Monday, December 4, 2017. Her email is kfeerick@nshc.org and her direct line is 631-257-6959.
Are You Ready, Feet?™ campaign Updates	Janine explains the steps the PHIP team is currently taking to move the Are You Ready, Feet?™ campaign to the next level. Through a direct mailing with all schools and libraries on Long Island, the PHIP team has been invited to several school-based health fairs. Many schools have expressed interest in using the AYRF online portal as a school-wide initiative. In line with this work, last year Cohen Children's Medical Center asked the Collaborative to participate in the Kohl's Cares for Kids grant program they were awarded. We will be bringing the Are You Ready, Feet?™

	campaign and portal into two school districts, chosen by Cohen's, to promote walking and other healthy lifestyle choices. Kim demonstrates updates in the functionality of the AYRF portal – team functionality allows individuals to create teams with other portal users. We plan on helping schools create specific teams (different classes, different grades, etc.). Also, schools will be given customizable home pages with information specific to their school environment (steps from front door to back door, etc.)
Stony Brook Medicine's Utilization of Are You Ready, Feet?™ campaign during worksite wellness initiatives presented by Cara Montesano, MS, RD, CDN, Public Health Nutrition Program Coordinator, Department of Family, Population and Preventative Medicine	Cara Montesano, Community Coordinator for Creating Healthy Schools and Communities grant, gave an overview of her experience with utilizing the Are You Ready, Feet?™ Portal with targeted communities in Suffolk County – Central Islip, Brentwood, Wyandanch, Southampton, and Roosevelt. Cara offers educational presentations to promote workplace wellness, increased physical activity and nutrition to CBOs. She also presents at health fairs, school events, faith base organizations
Cluster Updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Food Access Cluster • Data Advisory • Physical Activity and Behavioral Health Clusters 	Janine explains the Collaborative's first new workgroup (now referred to as "clusters"), the Food Access Cluster. This cluster formed organically during our Collective Impact event in September 2017. The first meeting took place on January 26, 2018. The goal of this group is to create an inventory of Food Access Activities and map partner activity to determine overlap. In addition to mapping activities, we hope to create a visualization of target populations, locations, outcomes/metrics, etc. Due to state language change, we have been granted access to data from the RHIOs – Healthix and NYCIG – for more specific, community level data. We have created a Data Advisory Cluster to guide us in using this new information to help you, Collaborative members. We plan on creating reports on specific topics to be used for grant proposals, hospital reporting, etc. We encourage you to reach out to us if you

	need information for any of these projects. Janine mentions starting other clusters that will work on a specific projects. Currently, we are planning on creating a Behavioral Health Cluster and a Physical Activity Cluster. If anyone is interested in becoming a member in any of the above mentioned clusters, please contact Katie Feerick at kfeerick@nshc.org.
Focus Groups Project	Katie explains the project of holding focus groups, town halls, or other community outreach sessions in either late 2018 or early 2019. The data collected would be used for CHA reporting. We encourage Collaborative member to suggest topics for the focus groups. Siena College, who have previously worked with HANYS, will send proposals on leading the focus groups.
DSRIP Partnership Updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Suffolk Care Collaborative presented by Sofia Gondal, Community Engagement Liaison • Nassau Queens PPS presented by Karen Charles, DSRIP Senior Project Manager 	Sofia Gondal, Suffolk Care Collaborative, presents the SCC's Community Engagement website. This site was created to inform community members on SCC's projects, health events, and the HITE resource. The Community Bulletin Board is a new feature that was added to the website recently. It highlights community programs that run long term, like support groups, community meetings, trainings, workshops, etc. Collaborative members are encouraged to contact Sofia (CommunityEngagement@stonybrookmedicine.edu) to add events to the board. Sofia announces SCC's plan on re-engaging the faith based community groups in Suffolk County. In late January 2018 SCC, in partnership with Suffolk County Executive Steve Bellone and the Office of Minority Health, held an event called "The Health Crisis in Our Communities: Opportunities to Improve Health and Wellness". The event was well attended and created may new contacts for the PPS. Karen Charles, Nassau Queens PPS, gives an update on NQP projects. NQP is

	working on keeping and viewing metrics on the value of providers within their network. Providers with less than ideal metrics are encouraged change certain proceeds to improve their scores. These scores will be very transparent. Karen also mentions the CBO Innovation Fund that was started in December 2017 to build relationships with organizations in the communities. Within 3 months, NQP was able to contract with 33 Nassau based organizations. This was a great success for NQP to gain access to the community to shared health educational programing, etc. NQP will be offering Mental Health First Aid trainings in Nassau County. These training will be held in community “hot spots” and will be offered to anyone interested. There will also be a webinar on addressing housing as a social determinants of health. This training will be led by Martine Hackett of Hofstra University on Wednesday, February 28th and again on Wednesday, March 7th. Stephanie Burke, Suffolk Care Collaborative, and Nancy Copperman, Nassau Queens PPS, presented the poster “Bridging the Gaps to Deliver Culturally Competent Health Literate Care” at the DSRIP Symposium in early February. We are currently working on the addition of a LGBTQ training to our CCHL program.
Care Transitions Network for People with Serious Mental Illness	There is a federal grant from CMS to transition their practices to value based payments. They offer coaching, financial incentives, etc. They contacted the LIHC to share this information with all the CBOs and practices in our collaborative. (Flyer attached).
Adjournment	The next LIPHIP meeting is scheduled for April 11, 2018 at Matrix Corporate Park Conference Room, 1393 Veterans Memorial Highway, Hauppauge, NY 11788. As always, we are incredibly thankful for all that our members do to drive LIHC initiatives.

	Please remember to send us your organization's events for us to add to the website and weekly event blast.
