

Long Island Health Collaborative Attendance & Meeting Summary: October 16, 2019 | 9:30 - 11:30am

Member Attendance: See list attached

Welcome & Introductions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Member program descriptions for attending legislators 	Janine Logan, Nassau-Suffolk Hospital Council/Long Island Health Collaborative, welcomes collaborative members and legislators to the August Long Island Health Collaborative Meeting. All members introduce themselves; 47 members are in attendance today, along with 1 New York State Assembly Representative. Legislators restored funding to the statewide PHIP program in this year's state budget and were on hand to see how the Long Island PHIP, known as the Long Island Health Collaborative, is coordinating population health activities for this region. Each legislator introduced themselves, the committees that they sit on, and which districts they serve. As each member introduced themselves, they had the opportunity to give a brief summary of their organization's mission, and showcase their efforts and successes to the senators and assemblymen.
PHIP Refresher	Funded by the New York State grant, the Population Health Improvement Program, the Long Island Health Collaborative is a data resource organizer and analyzer, the core of population health coordination, and a connection to constituents. Through solutions-oriented approaches, we serve to follow the collective impact model, leverage diverse partners, foster linkages, promote VBP concept, eliminate redundancies, streamline practices, and aggregate data.

	Guided by the state’s Prevention Agenda, the data work group unanimously chose two priorities for the Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reducing incidence of chronic disease • Tackling mental health issues and substance use issues The LIHC’s current initiatives are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Long Island “Healthy Libraries” • Walk With a Doc • Long Island Community Health Assessment Survey • Are You Ready, Feet?
Occupational & Environmental Medicine of Long Island (OEMLI) Presented by Jacqueline M. Moline, MD, MSc, Professor and Chair, Occupational Medicine, Epidemiology and Prevention, Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell Jacqueline.Moline@hofstra.edu	The overall mission of the Department of Occupational Medicine, Epidemiology and Prevention is to provide, understand and prevent diseases through exemplary patient care and innovative population-based research, with a special interest on exposure-based conditions. The Department is staffed by faculty and staff with a variety of specialties, physicians board-certified in Occupational Medicine, and researchers focused on the three pillars of the department: Occupational Medicine, Epidemiology and Prevention. The Department has three Occupational Medicine clinic locations, and is home to the federally funded Queens World Trade Center Health Program. The Occupational and Environmental Medicine Center partners with unions, benefit funds and regional businesses to enhance the health and safety of workers and lower overall healthcare costs. With over 30 years of specialized experience, our physicians

Recognition from NYS Assembly Representative	Brendan Cunningham, Chief of Staff for New York State Assemblywoman, Kimberly Jean-Pierre, address the collaborative. He congratulates all members of the collaborative on their successes, and thanks them for their tireless efforts in creating a healthier Long Island. Brendan also shares how Assemblywoman Jean-Pierre’s office has previously benefited from programs offered by LIHC members such as the American Heart Association.
Partner Presentations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Stony Brook University Hospital presented by Yvonne Spreckles, Director of Community Relations • Evolve Wellness presented by Lisa Zimmerman, HHC, CPT, MBA, Certified Health Coach and Personal Trainer • American Heart Association presented by Michele Gervat, Community Impact Director 	Three LIHC members highlight projects in which the collaborative was beneficial in attempt to illustrate to the Assembly representative the value of the Long Island PHIP, from a regional health planning perspective, and how each organization has specifically benefited from its connection to the LIHC – now 100 plus members. Each of the 3 partners emphasize how communication with other organizations and the networking that stems from LIHC has played a crucial role in their programs’ successes.
Adjournment	The final 2019 Collaborative meeting date is: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Thursday, December 12, 2019

Unless specified otherwise, the meeting will take place at the Crossroads Corporate Park Conference Room at 1393 Veterans Memorial Highway in Hauppauge, NY. As always, we are incredibly thankful for all our members do to drive LIHC initiatives.
